For too long women have sexually compromised their desires and longings, settling for less than they know themselves to be. However, we have now arrived at a time in our evolution where this cannot continue, for a woman’s sexual awakening is her spiritual awakening. So how do we support its progression while authentic sexual union is still in its infancy?

Perhaps it is by giving ourselves the permission to explore, experiment and experience the dormant wisdom of our subtle anatomy that longs to blaze with divine fire.

There are nine psycho-physical portals that guard and guide the awakening of a woman’s sacred sexual journey. This is the journey from the entrance of the yoni to the mystical feminine wisdom embedded within the womb. Every woman takes this journey at some stage in her life. The great depths contained within it are an important part igniting the divine fire of a fully awakened rose womb/man.

Women are the keepers of her sexual wisdom — it is a seat of self-fulfilment, elegance and resolution. The love of such a woman can release the trappings from old paradigm towards sex that keeps man from realising the principle of the divine love that he is.

A sexually conscious woman is a fully awakened woman.

By slowing down and connecting with the nine gateways, we can invite the possibility of consciously opening and revealing a women’s true essence and ability to truly love and surrender.
The nine gateways are:

1. The Entrance to the Temple: Lips of the Yoni (Opening to Trust)
2. The Royal Red Rose: Clitoris (Fires of Prophecy)
3. The Fountain of Love: G-Spot (Return to Innocence)
4. The Caduceus: Cervix (Integration of Lilith and Eve)
5. Twin Flames: Ovaries (Igniting the divine fire)
6. Solar/Lunar Temples: Fallopian Tubes (Masculine/Feminine Union & co-creation)
7. Outer Sanctum: Entrance to the Womb (Daring to go deeper)
8. Inner Sanctum: Gestation Spot (Co-Creation at the highest order)
9. Holy of Holies: Veil between Spirit and Matter (Gnosis: Direct Revelation)

THE FIRST FOUR GATES: The Rose Petals

The first four gates contain the landscape and conditioning upon which our personal sexual story is encoded. These areas are the usual places, where difficulties arise. These four destinations are the labia (lips), G-Spot, Clitoris and Cervix. It is here that we discover our true feelings regarding our sexual nature, relationship with the opposite gender, and the truth of our ancestral history and behaviour.

- THE FIRST GATE: The Lips of Love opens with Earthly Trust.
- THE SECOND GATE: The Clitoris opens with Fiery Knowing
- THE THIRD GATE: The G-Spot opens with Water’s of Innocence
- THE FOURTH GATE: The Cervix opens with the Conscious Breath of Integration

GATES FIVE AND SIX

These gates contain the subtle anatomy that connects us with divine fire and co-creation. The power of the ovaries and fallopian tubes are strengthened by the praise of our parents. If we were recognised for our creativity and applauded for our artistry our 5th and 6th gates will be healthy and vital. If we were ignored, judged or creatively put down, our ability to source divine fire will be impaired. Recognition, acknowledgement and praise will tone and harmonise the creative power in our ovaries and fallopian tubes. If we discover cysts is this area – note whether it is on our left or right sides. Left is associated with the Feminine (mother) whereas the right side is connected with Masculine (father).

THE LAST THREE GATES

The first three gates contain the landscape and soul wisdom upon which our personal spiritual story is encoded. These areas are the usual places, where difficulties in going deeper arise. These three destinations are the entrance to the womb, the centre of the womb and the ‘place’ the womb is pointing towards. It is here that we discover our true feelings regarding our soulful nature, relationship with God, and the wisdom of our ancestors both spiritual and flesh.

These great depths of the Womb can only be discovered once we have gone beyond the guardians of sacred union: the Feminine Guardian is the Fear of being abandoned, whereas the Masculine Guardian is the fear of being consumed. Once these gigantic fears have been seen for what they truly are – initiations into the unknown, we will see they were only figments of our fear-based imaginations. Once passed through, these fears become our greatest allies – true and trustable guardians of authenticity and integrity.

Womb(man’s) greatest journey is about to begin...
